Eastern League Only – Players must already possess basic throwing, catching & hitting skills. This program is structured more then the Modified T-Ball Program. Players not ready for Eastern League should be registered for the American League.

The Little League Age Chart will determine all ages that are referred to on this handout. Your child can not by Little League rules move into Saco Little League until they are league age 7. Girl's softball uses a different age chart. They will have to show a birth certificate to sign up for Little League.

Both T-Ball Divisions will stress the fundamentals of T-Ball while working towards the introduction of baseball and softball. The National League will be an introduction to the basics of hitting, throwing, catching & running, while the American League will reinforce the basics and begin intermediate skills to prepare the player for Eastern League and Minor League Little League play. Eastern League will focus on advanced positional play, rules, hitting, throwing & catching. Please do not sign your child up for the Eastern League without reading the program description above
